I picked this up off the internet. Supposedly you are asking for public input.

In my opinion this thing should be over and done with. I think it is a travesty and has added to the problems with the market in general. Reminds me of the breakup of AT&T. All it did was hurt people. Now all those baby bells are scrambling to consolidate.

Leave MSFT alone. The market environment has changed and the competition is there. MHO. Jerry Lewis
